142 Die in Tornadoes

Over 900 Reported Injured by Storms Sweeping 6 States

Property Damage Runs Into Millions; Dixie State Hit Hardest

(By The Associated Press)
Striking through warm spring air, tornadoes tore at seven southern and midwestern states yesterday killing 142 or more, injuring around 1,000 and smashing property worth millions.

Terrific winds cut across the northwestern section of Mississippi where at least 59 were known dead, and approximately 320 others injured. High winds also left a trail of death and destruction in western Kentucky and Tennessee, struck south-central and north-central Indiana, and killed at least 20 in east-central Illinois.

The lethal winds cut across the northwestern tip of Alabama, killing two near Florence, and severe storms were reported as far west as Missouri.

The toll of dead and estimated number of injured by states.

| State       | Dead | Injured |
|-------------|------|---------|
| Mississippi | 73   | 650     |
| Illinois    | 17   | 170     |
| Kentucky    | 21   | 60      |
| Tennessee   | 27   | 100     |

| Alabama     | 2    |         |

Mississippi Hardest Hit
Mississippi, hardest hit, rushed all available aid to the disaster area, covering an area 150 miles wide and about 100 miles deep. The section is mostly rural with only a few scattered cities. Torrential rains followed the high winds and washed out many roads.

Nineteen were known dead and 96 injured in Leflore county in northwestern Mississippi, and at least 18 were killed and 45 injured in the vicinity of Water Valley, a small town in the north-central section of the state.

Other Mississippi cotton belt towns reporting were Grenada, 6 dead, more than 100 injured; Baldi, in four dead, 90 injured, one missing; Avalon, five dead, one injured; Oxford and Tula, five dead, many others injured; near Ichigan City, six dead; near North Holly Springs, two dead. The area is populated largely by negroes.

Many Lucky Escapes
The storms struck separately in Mississippi shortly after 4 p. m. (DWT), and large groups of school children, en route home,

Relief and Health Agencies Quick to Aid Storm Victims

Springfield, Ill., March 17—(AP)—Doctors, nurses and sanitary engineers from the state public health department worked today in the tornado-stricken communities of Alvin and Lacon to guard against the dangers of epidemic following yesterday's windstorms which killed 17 persons in Illinois.

Dr. Roland R. Cross, state health director, announced that a health department crew equipped with a chlorinator had been dispatched to Lacon last night after pressure was reported to have dropped in the village's water system.

The health director said supplies of tetanus antitoxin and typhoid vaccine had been taken to the hard hit communities.

State Patrolmen Help
State patrolmen were among the first persons to bring emergency assistance into the wrecked areas.

Celebration

With U. S. Forces in Northern Ireland, March 17—(AP)—"Sure, I never thought I'd be in Ireland on St. Patrick's Day," an American soldier said today as he passed a black-haired, black-eyed colleen proudly wearing a sprig of shamrock.

"Aye, it's grand—but not like the celebration in the Bronx," said she.

What did 19-year-old Muriel McGinley know about the Bronx? Why, she's lived there until she was nine years old, at 421 E. 144th St.

"That's what I remember most about America," she said. "They really celebrated there."

Three Automobiles Badly Damaged in Crash West of Dixon Yesterday

Three automobiles were almost demolished in a wreck yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the foot of Lord's hill on the Lincoln Highway, west of Dixon. John Gramms of Rock Falls, formerly of Dixon, was the worst injured of the three drivers, sustaining a bad scalp wound and numerous body injuries. He was reported to be resting comfortably at the Dixon public hospital today.

Orville Shostrom of Oak Park sustained minor injuries and was taken to the hospital in the ambulance which also removed Gramms from the scene of the wreck. Shostrom's injuries were of a minor nature and he was released from the hospital and continued on to Oak Park last evening.

Dan Coakley of this city was the third driver figuring in the three-car collision. He sustained only minor bruises which did not require medical attention.

Coakley and Shostrom were reported to have been driving west on the Lincoln Highway, the latter driver following the Coakley car. Gramms was said to have been driving east and to have pulled out of his line of traffic crashing into both the west bound machines, which were very badly wrecked and were hauled to local garages after state police arrived and completed an investigation of the collision.

Red Army Tightens Noose Around Last of 16th Nazi Army

Report, Capture of Key Position in Staraya Russa Sector Today

By The Associated Press
Russian troops battling to crush remnants of the trapped German 16th army in the Staraya Russa sector, south of Leningrad, were reported today to have seized a key point on heights overlooking the battlefield and further tightened the noose around the beleaguered nazis.

Soviet front-line dispatches, identifying the point only as "N", said it had been one of the strongest centers of German resistance.

This may have been the ancient walled city of Novgorod, on the north shore of Lake Ilmen, one of the main anchors of German defense.

On the Ukraine front, Russian dispatches said the Germans were surrendering in mounting numbers as Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies battered at the gates of Kharkov, the soviet "Pittsburgh."

In the Crimea, a bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters asserted that Russian attacks on the Kerch peninsula, gateway to the Caucasian oil fields, had collapsed against German-Rumanian resistance.

Claim Red Losses Big
The nazi commander said the Russians suffered heavy losses in repeated unsuccessful attacks on other sectors of the long front, where an early pre-spring thaw

Two Army Bombers Crash Within Two Hours; 14 Perish

Flying Fortresses Meet Disaster on Flights at Pendleton, Ore.

Pendleton, Ore., March 17—(AP)—Army salvage crews attempted today to carry crash-shattered sections of two flying fortresses from the mountains on which they smashed early yesterday, killing 14 army aviators.

Wreckage of one of the four-motored Boeing bombers, which hit a Blue mountain peak 20 miles south of here while on a flight from the Pendleton air base, was strewn over a mile-wide canyon. It took an all-day search yesterday to locate the bodies of the ten crew members, all hurled into scattered snow banks.

The other bomber, also from the Pendleton field, plowed into a wooded slope near Gowen Field, Boise, Idaho, while circling for a landing, and four members of the six-man crew were killed.

Hospital attendants said Corp. George A. Gurlack, engineer, Danbury, Conn., one of the survivors, was in a serious condition, suffering possible fractured ribs and lung punctures. Sgt. Morton L. Howard, radio operator, Danville, Pa., suffered a broken leg and a dislocated ankle.

Within Two Hours
Col. Frank A. Wright, Pendleton air base commander, said the planes on routine flights, crashed up within two hours of each other.

Approximately 500 Dixonites in Class

According to an announcement made today by J. R. Palmer, Lee county chairman of first aid, another class in first aid instruction is being formed at the Loveland Community House, with Dr. A. F. Moore as instructor. Approximately 500 Dixon residents are enrolled in ten or more classes being conducted here by Mr. Palmer, his assistant, V. E. Hopper, Sgt. D. Barrett, Mr. Gentry, Dr. J. L. Tavenner, who opened a new class for Dixon nurses last evening, and Dr. Louis Bellinson, who is conducting a class at the Dixon State hospital.

Dr. Moore's group will meet for its first lesson on Tuesday evening, March 24, from 7 to 9 o'clock and will continue weekly sessions at the same hours for ten consecutive weeks. Everyone interested in enrolling is asked to secure a First Aid textbook from Miss Frances Patrick at the Chamber of Commerce, and to bring a 40x40 inch square of unbleached muslin for bandage practice.

Announcement of the addition class of beginners is necessary to meet the growing demand for first aid training.

Mr. Palmer's Monday evening class last night was given the privilege of observing an inhalator demonstration, through the courtesy of the Illinois Northern Utilities company. The ten weeks' course will be concluded with final examinations next Monday morning.

The week following completion of the present course, Mr. Palmer expects to begin an advanced course of training for those receiving standard certificates in next Monday evening's examinations. The course will consist of two-hour classes for five consecutive weeks.

It is also hoped that an instructors' course may be organized later. This course would consist of three hours of instruction for five evenings within a week's time.

Roy O. West Resigns Post in Deneen Group

Roy O. West, father of Mrs. LeGrand Cannon of Dixon, resigned yesterday as chairman of the National Republican party of Cook County, the old-time Deneen organization.

The Chicagoan, who for years was a member or chairman of Cook County's powerful County Board of Review and later won national prominence as Secretary of the Interior, resigned because he had to West has become a dollar-a-year man.

"To comply with provisions of the so-called Hatch Act, I am compelled to resign," he explained in a letter to Harry Hoff, secretary of the Deneen organization. "This resignation is due to my acceptance of the position of hearing officer in the matter of conscientious objectors to military service."

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

Herr Hitler's Memorial Day speech in Berlin Sunday has received less attention in this country than any other he has delivered since the war began, and yet it strikes me as being one of his most important utterances, for it is a tacit admission that things are going badly for the Fatherland.

The unconquerable Hitler finally has had to come before his people and admit in as euphemistic terms as possible the terrific beating which the nazi armies have been taking at the hands of the Bolsheviks. It no longer is safe or wise to evade the truth.

The fuhrer blames his troubles on what he describes as the worst Russian winter in 140 years. That's a long time to go back in weather records, and gives rise to the suspicion that it's calculated to ante-date the great Napoleon's disastrous retreat from Moscow in 1812 and thus minimize the present misfortunes. Still, this thin sugar-coating of the pill cannot conceal the evil taste of the dose from the German public.

The nazi chief's speech is fair indication that he is worried. Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles goes even further and declares that "there is implicit in every word and every phrase Hitler's own recognition of his impending downfall."

Quite likely the fuhrer's boasted "intuition" has indeed shown him some very unwelcome writing on the wall. In any event he has called on his people for greater efforts and has warned that "the Bolshevik colossus is a cruel menace."

However, while all this is encouragement for Hitler's enemies, we shall make a vast mistake to place any dependence on the weakness which his war scheme has developed, for he is still the greatest threat which the allies face. You want to keep your fingers crossed when you even let yourself think that he may be on the way out, for he is likely to prove most dangerous when he is cornered. The nazi dictator isn't beaten yet.

The moral of Hitler's confession is that now is the time when he is showing signs of weakness, to redouble our efforts to finish him off before he has a chance to recover. As Maxim Litvinoff, soviet ambassador to Washington said last night in urging greater allied efforts:

"Time is but a treacherous ally, ready to fight on either side."

The way to beat Hitler is to jump on him with both feet, hot and all, while he is part way down. That isn't according to the Marquis of Queensberry's rules for gentlemanly fighting—but this isn't a Queensberry type of scrap.

The Bolsheviks have called for a final example of winter warfare. When the fierce Russian winter caught the Hitlerites unprepared deep in soviet territory, the Reds struck at them with all their might. The Muscovites themselves had taken fierce punishment and all that winter had been mainly on the defensive, battling for every inch of ground they had to give up. But they pulled themselves together and counter-attacked—they rushed green men through training and flung them into their battered lines; they worked day and night to create new war factories to replace those destroyed.

All through the terrors of the winter the Russians have hammered Hitler until now he is showing weakness. Along the northern two-thirds of the long battle line the winter still has a month or six weeks to run. And the Reds are redoubting their efforts to try to deliver the knock-out.

To do that they need military equipment. That's America's cue. Every part that's added to a tank or airplane in the coffin of Hitler's hopes. And since the Japs are riding on Hitler's coattails, his finish means theirs.

Production will play a large role in Russia's swelling offensive. The experts in our shops, whose technical training is essential to the production of war machines, may hold the balance of power between victory and defeat. And time is racing to the crucial spring.

Battleship Tirpitz, Reich's Mightiest Loose on High Seas

Grave Implication for British Seen in News of Ship's Escape

London, March 17—(AP)—Britain, already feeling the pinch of lost warships and merchantmen, was warned today that the battleship Tirpitz, Germany's newest and most dangerous, may now be loose on the high seas.

The announcement by a British source that the powerful warship "appears to have avoided" an aerial torpedo attack dashed British hopes that naval planes had knocked her out of the war, at least for a while, near the Norwegian port of Narvik eight days ago.

He said he had no information about the present whereabouts of the Tirpitz, sistership of the tough Bismarck which sank the British battle cruiser Hood singlehanded and, in turn, was sunk when heavy British air and sea forces cornered her and pounded her to pieces last May 27.

The news had grave implications for the British, since a warship as mighty as the Tirpitz is so grave a menace to sea convoys that strong British naval forces including battleships, must be diverted from other work to meet her challenge.

British Navy Spread Thin

Britain's navy now is spread thin from the Far Pacific through the Mediterranean into the Atlantic.

The new threat of the Tirpitz on the loose in the northern seas occurs as those waters apparently are developing into a major spring war theater to maintain the avenue of British and American supplies for soviet Russia.

The importance attached to security of the northern sea lanes was indicated today in an Admiralty communique which disclosed that a British auxiliary minesweeper had shot down a German JU-88 in an attack on a Russian merchantman.

The far north front also was emphasized in today's German high command communique which reported successful nazi Alpine shock troop operations on the

Nelson Broadcast Set for This Eve

Washington, March 17—(AP)—War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson will make a "statement to the nation" tonight in a special broadcast designed to counteract axis propaganda which officials said described the production speed up drive as an attempt to "sovietize" American industry.

WPA officials announced that the statement would climax a brief dramatization of the production drive over the National Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System and Mutual Broadcasting networks between 8:30 and 9 p. m. CWT, and that it "will cover a lot of ground."

The suddenly scheduled speech, it was understood, was arranged principally to block cleverly handled "sniping" by axis propagandists here and abroad. In this country, it was reported, axis agents, have actively supplemented Berlin and Tokyo radio broadcasts aimed against the management-labor committees established by Nelson as a nucleus for the speed-up in armament production.

As the first formal move to launch the production speed-up, government representatives will hold meetings during the next two weeks with industries holding prime war contracts and assist in organizing the management-labor committees.

Ohio River Towboat Split in Two in Collision With Bridge; 3 Dead

Wheeling, W. Va., March 17—(AP)—Workmen dragged the rain-swollen waters of the Ohio river today for the bodies of two of three men lost when the 150-foot towboat Katie Lyons, caught in a swift current, crashed into a fog-shrouded railroad bridge pier and sank within a few minutes.

The fourteen others aboard, including two women, saved themselves by clinging to barges or wreckage until rivermen, putting out in skiffs, could haul them ashore. The women, both Pittsburgh maids, joined the crew last Friday, the 13th, and were on their first river voyage.

The missing men were Capt. Andrew C. Lyons of Pittsburgh, master of the sternwheeler and head of the Lyons River Transportation Company which owned

Uruguayan Vessel Torpedoed; 17 of Crew of 49 Lost

BULLETIN

New York, March 17—(AP)—Fourteen survivors of an American merchant ship, torpedoed last Saturday off Atlantic City, N. J., have landed at Staten Island. Twenty men were reported missing.

Montevideo, Uruguay, March 17—(AP)—The 5,785-ton Uruguayan merchant ship Montevideo, formerly the Italian Adamello, has been torpedoed and sunk off Jeremie, Haiti, and 17 of her crew of 49 are missing, the government announced today.

The ship was skippered by Capt. Rodriguez Varela, a Uruguayan naval officer, who was rescued, and was partly manned by Uruguayan naval personnel.

Seizes Interned Ship

The Uruguayan government today ordered seizure of the interned German ship Tacoma in reprisal.

The 8,262-ton Tacoma was the supply ship for the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee, destroyed off Montevideo by Adolf Hitler's orders after being defeated by British cruisers in December, 1939. The Tacoma has been here ever since.

Public excitement over the sinking caused authorities to throw guards around property of axis nationals.

The government suspended all further sailings of Uruguayan merchantmen until arrangements could be made for their protection. It was understood the government planned to arm these vessels.

Jeremie, on the northwestern spur of Haiti, is about 125 miles across Mona passage from Guantanamo, the United States' Cuban naval base.

Reprisals Likely

Guani said he had no further details on the Montevideo.

Uruguay thus became the third South American nation whose ships have been attacked by axis submarines in United States waters.

Although Guani refrained from comment, informed sources believed the attack would result in some form of reprisal such as Brazil's seizure of axis property for the sinking of at least four Brazilian ships.

Guani's announcement came less than 24 hours after it was learned that a Chilean ship, the Tolten, had been sunk off New York harbor.

Uruguay already has severed diplomatic relations with the axis.

The Montevideo, a 5,785-ton freighter, was placed under "protective custody" at Montevideo last April 5 after seizure by the United States of all Italian, Danish and nazi ships in American ports.

In May the Uruguayans allowed

Number 64

Chicago, March 17—(AP)—Paul H. Eberman, 38-year-old ex-marine of Elgin, Ill., who became a one-man volunteer recruiting officer for his old branch with U. S. entry into the war, practiced what he preached when he went back into the service himself today.

Eberman, a motion-picture operator, married and the father of a 17-year-old daughter, Shirley, was credited with rounding up 63 young men for the marines in the Elgin neighborhood after Pearl Harbor. He made himself No. 64 with re-enlistment as a corporal, the rank he held at the end of his former trick, 1920-23.

Nine barges which the Katie Lyons was towing broke away and floated swiftly down the river. The Ohio stood at 29 feet, seven feet below flood stage, and was high enough to sweep the barges over dams.

Hero of Bataan Is Placed in Supreme Command in Pacific

Transfer Made at Wish of Government of Land Down Under

Washington, March 17—(AP)—The arrival of General Douglas MacArthur in Australia to assume the supreme United Nations command in that region was announced today by the war department.

The assignment was requested by the Australian government, the department said, and President Roosevelt directed MacArthur on February 22 to transfer his headquarters from the Philippines he has been so brilliantly defending to Australia as soon as the necessary arrangements could be made.

MacArthur requested a delay until he could perfect arrangements within his Philippine command, and this delay was approved by the President.

MacArthur was accompanied on the plane trip to Australia by Mrs. MacArthur and their son; by his chief of staff, Major General Richard K. Sutherland; Brigadier General Harold H. George of the air forces, and several other staff officers.

His command in the Southwest Pacific region will include the Philippine islands, the war department said.

Wainwright Succeeds

Direct command of the forces in the Philippines passes to Major General Jonathan M. Wainwright, the senior officer remaining in Bataan. A cavalryman, Wainwright has been in the Philippines since October, 1940, when he was assigned to command the Philippine division.

Born in Walla Walla, Wash., Wainwright was graduated from West Point in 1906 and he holds the distinguished service medal for staff duties with the AEF in France during the first World War.

Among the men now under MacArthur in Australia are the "considerable numbers" making up the expeditionary force of American ground troops and air corps units announced yesterday by Secretary of War Stimson.

Amazing Record

MacArthur, since first reports, on December 10, of Japanese attempts to invade the island of Luzon in the Philippines, has commanded the amazing defense of those islands, fighting the numerically superior Japanese invaders to a standstill on the peninsula of Bataan.

In accordance with plans carefully drawn prior to outbreak of the war, MacArthur withdrew his principal forces on Luzon toward Bataan, where for weeks he has stalled all attempts of the Japanese to destroy his forces or push them into the sea.

The text of the special communique announcing his transfer to Australia:

"I, Australia:

"General Douglas MacArthur arrived in Australia by plane today. He was accompanied by Mrs. MacArthur and son, and by his chief of staff, Major General Richard K. Sutherland; Brigadier General Harold H. George of the air corps and several other staff officers. He will be the supreme commander in that region, including the Philippine Islands, in accordance with the request of the Australian government.

"On February 22, the president directed General MacArthur to transfer his headquarters from the Philippines to Australia as soon as the necessary arrangements could be made. General MacArthur requested that he be permitted to delay in carrying out the order until he could perfect arrangements within his command in the Philippines. This delay was authorized by the president.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Succeeds Wavell

MacArthur's predecessor as supreme commander in the Southwest Pacific was British General Sir Archibald Wavell, whose reassignment to command in India was announced on March 2.

At that time, no mention was made officially of the possibility that MacArthur would succeed him. Although Australian sources had suggested MacArthur from time to time.

Similar suggestions have been made by Wendell L. Wilkie, the 1940 Republican presidential nominee; by members of congress and by American newspapers.

Wavell's reassignment to India was explained as a result of the loss of Malaya and the entry of the Japanese onto Sumatra, separating Burma from the Netherlands East Indies. The transfer of all land, sea and air forces in the

Of Interest to Farmers

AAA Will Destroy Two Million Acres of Wheat in Kansas

Congressmen Protest Edict in Face of Needs for War

Topeka, Kas.—Despite the protests of congressmen, state officials and puzzled farmers who had been told that "food will win the war," about 2,000,000 acres of volunteer wheat in Kansas are to be destroyed under rigid enforcement of the AAA quota system.

A rare combination of weather conditions has produced the most promising crop of volunteer wheat in many years. Volunteer wheat is described as wheat grown without cultivation from seeds which have fallen from previous stands. The wheat, heavy and harvestable, is now growing on 2,000,000 Kansas acres not this year planted to wheat and designated either to be summer fallowed or used for pasture.

The unusually heavy volunteer crop is attributed to the fact that standing wheat on much of the ground upon which it is now growing was flattened last year by heavy rains. Volunteer wheat seldom is worth harvesting, but this year it is estimated the expected bumper crop in Kansas alone would be sufficient to make 2 billion loaves of bread.

Under rulings of the department of agriculture, this valuable growth of potential food must be destroyed by May 1 if the land is to be summer fallowed, or by June 15 if it is used for pasture.

Price of U. S. Aid
The department has announced that AAA quotas are to be enforced strictly and that farmers who want to stay in the program will not be permitted to harvest more than their allotments—otherwise no AAA payments and no loans.

Consequently, farmers in western Kansas have begun the heart-breaking task of plowing under thousands of acres of wheat that they had believed necessary to replenish the world supply of food being diminished under war conditions.

In Haskell county, where 100,000 acres will have to be sacrificed, farmers are extremely reluctant to plow under a crop they believe might lessen starvation in some parts of the world and are wondering whether another AAA mistake of "killing the little pigs" is being made.

Governor Protests in Vain
Gov. Payne Ratner made a powerful but unavailing plea to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard to take steps to save this wheat, asserting that he could not conceive of any reason why growing wheat, or any other potential food, should be destroyed.

"In time of war," the governor said, "the destruction of any weapon which can help defeat the enemy, or any resource which will aid us, borders on treason. We are told that 'food will win the war' and we write the peace"—and I believe it will.

"As an act of patriotism, and in the interest of all Americans and all humanity, I hope that you will do your utmost to see that this great supply of potential food is preserved for possible future use, and that none of our 'food for freedom' is destroyed at this time of vital need."

Congressmen from Kansas and other farm states were scathing in their criticism of the AAA for what some of them termed the "criminal" policy of destroying food.

About two miles of motion picture film are required for a two-hour projection performance on the screen.

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

On a train the other evening I overheard one man telling another that "after the war we'll go back..."

We may like to think so. But the world doesn't move backwards and there is no reason to think it will be thrown into reverse at the close of this war.

Just last night I was reading about the time, labor and material that is being saved by casting steel instead of riveting or even welding it. The need for faster production of planes, ships, and tanks forced the development of this better method. Does anyone think that after the war we will go back to riveting steel now that we know how to cast it?

During the last war the poultry business was practically forgotten. "Wheat will win the war," was the cry then. Today it's different. We know more about food values today and the cry is for more eggs.

What was formerly considered a backyard business is becoming a major agricultural industry. We're affected by politics; we're operating under government orders; and we're news on the financial pages of the big metropolitan papers.

Under such circumstances changes in the industry are inevitable. They are coming so fast it's hard to keep up with them. And after the war we won't be going back to old methods of production, marketing, and distribution. We might as well make up our minds to that right now—and plan accordingly.

Industry Is Changing
Two years ago we dried about 12 million pounds of eggs in this country. Today we have enough plants to dry over 225 million pounds of eggs. It isn't likely that those plants will all be junked the day the peace treaty is signed.

Shipping space and storage space is at a premium. Poultry can be shipped and stored in about a third the space if it is drawn and frozen. More and more of it is being packed that way all the time. Once people have known the convenience of buying chickens that are cleaned and ready to cook, do you think they will go back to buying heads and feet and entrails?

The government is encouraging southern farmers to produce less cotton—and more eggs. Do you think they will sell their laying flocks the day the last gun is fired?

Lack of Rubber Affects Marketing

Produce plants have tried to outdo each other in offering service to the producers. They have culled and wormed their flocks; they have picked up eggs and chickens on the farm; they have hauled feed and baby chicks to the country.

That all takes tires and labor—and there is a shortage of both right now. It will become even more acute and as produce plants and hatcheries find it necessary to cut down on their services I am sure you will understand why.

It is almost certain that poultry raisers will eventually have to haul their own poultry and eggs to market. That won't mean extra wear on tires, because you have to go to town anyway. But you won't be driving any farther than you have to. Small towns will get more business as you buy—and sell—closer to home instead of going to the larger towns and cities.

A lack of rubber will tend toward a de-centralization of the produce packing business.

We know only that when the war is over the poultry industry will have won its service stripes; it will have learned new ways of doing things—many of them better ways because they had to be better, and it won't be "going back."

First state to establish a separate state highway department was New Jersey in 1891. Before that the burden of road costs was borne by local communities.

Process of preserving food by packing it in air-tight cans was discovered by Nicholas Appert, a Frenchman, in 1795.

George E. Teel of Franklin Grove Is WPA Liaison Officer

Will Assist in Shift of WPA Labor Back to Farms of County

In conjunction with the Works Projects Administration's part in the "Food For Freedom" program, T. G. Linquist, district manager for the northern section of Illinois, today informed farm advisers in each of the district's 22 counties that an individual had been named in each county to co-operate in the drive to shift WPA employees with agricultural experience back to the farms.

"Liaison individuals appointed by this office are drawn from our supervisory personnel," Linquist said, "and will cooperate with farmers, farm advisers, the United States Employment Service, the Department of Agriculture War Board and any other persons or organizations seeking to employ or place farm labor."

A preliminary survey of WPA workers in his district discloses that 251 individuals have had farm work experience of some form or other Linquist said. Of this number, 71 have already secured the promise of farm employment within the next few weeks, and many of the others are confident that the coming of spring will find them back on the land. Information was gathered by the questionnaire method, he added, and five individuals were dismissed from WPA employment for failure to answer.

Encourage Practice
"It has been WPA's policy to encourage employees to seek private employment at all times," Linquist went on, "just as it has been the policy to return to WPA employment with a minimum of delay and red tape those who lose their private employment through no fault of their own."

Chicago Woman Admits Embezzlement of Big Sum to Give Husband

Chicago, March 17—(AP)—Mrs. Irene Wilkalis, 29-year-old bookkeeper, was held today on charges of embezzling $25,000 from the Illinois acceptance corporation over an eight-year period.

Her husband, Paul, 32, a beer salesman, also was being held on a complaint charging him with being an accomplice. The complaints, signed by George Traub, manager of the company, did not charge a specific amount, but Detective Francis Little and John Steiner said Mrs. Wilkalis admitted taking the $25,000 and that she had given most of it to her husband.

Wilkalis told Capt. Thomas Duffy his wife had been giving him as much as $70 a week recently, but that he did not know where the money was coming from and that it did not occur to him to ask.

Asked why she gave the money to her husband, Capt. Duffy said she replied: "Because I love him."

Lee County Farm Bureau News Notes

Dale D. Rosenkrans, chairman of the Lee County Agricultural Conservation Association, advises that farmers who have 1938 or 1939 corn which was resealed for two years can now redeem their loans without losing any of their storage allowance. These loans ordinarily would fall due August 1, 1942. This is corn which was sealed for 57 cents and then resealed with a 10 cent storage advance. The difference between the 57 cents amount of original sealing and the 61 cents represents interest.

Mr. Rosenkrans says that this redemption of corn is a good example of the value of the farm program to farmers. They can realize a profit of over 10 cents a bushel for storing the corn from previous surplus years.

Redemption at the 61 cents will be allowed only up to April 30th. This will permit marketing during a period that will avoid the usual spring rush and heavy strain on transportation facilities, and most important it will make available additional corn supplies for immediate feeding needs.

AAA Makes County Check on Labor and Scrap

Township committeemen will be calling upon every Lee county farmer this week in a canvass to assist in their all out production for Victory campaign program.

Farmers will be asked to fill in questionnaires which will supply the county war board with data enabling them to evaluate Lee county's ability to accomplish their objectives in this year's production goals.

Subjects discussed will include the following: Labor situation upon each farm, present supply of labor and possible future needs, checking necessary repair parts for machinery available for custom work on farms other than their own.

Producing food and fiber for our nation at war is the obligation of every American farmer, but in addition his government now appeals to him for the scrap iron which is now upon his farm. The boys in the service are depending upon the ships, tanks, guns and planes which cannot be built unless this scrap can be collected. Farmers are asked to check the amount which their farm can contribute. In addition to scrap iron a check up will be taken of supplies of old paper, baling wire and burlap sacks. The defense of the civilian population of this community may largely depend upon the available supply of these sacks to be used as sand bags in case of air raids.

Further relaxation of AAA rules to allow for increased planting of soybeans and other vital war crops is announced by Dale D. Rosenkrans, chairman of the Lee County AAA Committee.

Farmers may expand soybean acreages by reducing acreages planted exclusively to soil conserving crops and still be in full compliance with the rule requiring that at least 20 per cent of a farm's total crop land be devoted to conservation.

The new rule extends the list of crops and land uses which may be used to meet the requirement that 20 per cent of the farm's cropland be devoted to soil building crops. Added to the list are perennial grasses and biennial legumes seeded with flax, peas or small grains as a nurse crop.

The amount of these new crops which would count toward fulfilling the farm's 20 per cent conserving acres requirement is limited to 40 per cent of the acreage on the farm planted to war crops. War crops include soybeans harvested as grain, flax, castor beans, sugar beets, dry field peas, dry beans, canning peas and canning tomatoes.

"I strongly urge farmers to get in touch with their community AAA committeemen or the county committee about this new ruling," Mr. Rosenkrans said. "Patriotic farmers will want to devote every inch of soil possible for war production purposes. Where grasses or legumes can be seeded in with wheat, oats or other small grain crop, it will be possible in many cases for the farmer to plant additional soybeans on land originally intended for soil conserving purposes. It should be remembered however, that soybeans are severely soil depleting and erosion promoting, and, therefore, only rich, level land is suitable to their growth. Farmers must plan their 1942 production for the needs of their country but must also keep in mind that the probability of a long war makes it necessary that the fertility of the soil be maintained."

Ogle County Farm Bureau News Notes

Advantages of marketing livestock through the cooperative organizations sponsored by the Farm Bureau, and the results obtained by representation of the livestock producers in questions of freight rates before the interstate commerce commission were discussed at a meeting of livestock producers and truckers who haul livestock to the central market.

L. J. Quasey, Commerce Counsel for the National Livestock Marketing Association, was the principal speaker. He told the truckmen that according to information he had received from Washington there would be no priority given to truckmen on tires and that the only place that they could secure permission to buy tires would be from the county rationing boards. He believes that when the question of tires for livestock trucks becomes a problem the livestock marketing committee of the county would be able to assist truckmen to get needed tires from the rationing board. He told of the work of his department in securing more satisfactory freight rates on feeder livestock from western points than had been available for many years.

Harry Campbell, manager of the hog department and Frank Crawford and John Muckle of the cattle department of the Chicago Producers Commission Association discussed the livestock markets and probably price trends. Musical entertainment was furnished by Clifford Leatherby and son of Rockford.

There were 101 livestock producers and truckmen and representatives of the Farm Bureau marketing organization present at the banquet and meeting. The meeting was in charge of Ernest Hartje, Forrester, chairman of

To Classify 9,000,000 in Nation Tonight for Military Service

Draft Lottery To Be Conducted in National Capital

Drawing To Determine Order In Which Men Will Be Called

Washington, March 17.—(AP)—Classification of 9,000,000 more American men for possible military duty will start tonight with the first draft lottery of the war.

Beginning at 5 p. m. C. W. T. numbers will be drawn throughout the night to fix the order of calling up the 1,650,000 youngsters 20 and 21 years old and roughly 7,350,000 older men of 36 to 45, who registered Feb. 16. The draw is expected to last 12 hours.

From the numbers, local draft boards will determine the order of sending to questionnaires and having registrants examined physically before classifying them.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, said none of the men affected by tonight's drawing would receive questionnaires before mid-May. However, some of them may be inducted the following month, he added.

Some 17,500,000 men registered in the peace-time draft calls of 1940 and 1941. Many of the eligibles from this group, between 21 and 35 years old, already have been inducted. Hershey indicated that the military and war industrial needs of the nation would require the induction of hundreds of thousands from all age groups from 20 to 44.

Stimson Draws First Number

The historic old goldfish bowl, used in the first World War and the two peace-time lotteries, was brought here from Independence Hall in Philadelphia for tonight's drawing. From it, Secretary Stimson will take the first number.

The new registrants will receive questionnaires on vocational skills as well as on dependents. This information may form the basis for drafting men to work in war production industries, replacing those called for duty on the fighting fronts.

After Stimson draws the first number, other high army and navy officials and congressional leaders will step up to draw tiny capsules from the goldfish bowl. For a week now, clerks in Hershey's office have been inserting the numbered paper slips in the capsules, which are green—appropriate for St. Patrick's Day.

Local draft boards shuffled all the registration cards and assigned each one a serial number. 1, 2, 3, etc. (T for the third registration). The numbers to be drawn from the goldfish bowl tonight constitute a master list of order numbers, although each local board in getting up its individual list, following the drawing, will disregard all order numbers larger than the total number of men in that board.

For instance, should the first serial number drawn tonight prove to be T-533 and the second number T-465, a draft board with only 400 registrants would throw out the first master number and make No. T-465 its first order number.

School Teacher Resigned
Miss Margaret Lee, teacher of the fourth grade at Central school, tendered her resignation to the elementary board of education Friday evening, effective immediately. Her marriage to Amos Shook, which took place in January, has just been made known.

Mrs. Charles Olson is in charge of the fourth grade at present.

Birth
Dr. and Mrs. C. Spencer Bond are the parents of a daughter, born at Lincoln hospital, Sunday, March 15. The young miss has been named Margaret Ann.

Change of Address
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Quest and family moved last week from 524 Second avenue to their new home in the 1000 block on North Seventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hartman moved Saturday from 609 North Main street across the street.

Patriotic Conference
Mrs. Laura Draper and Mrs. Arthur Heltness are local representatives of the American Legion Auxiliary in attendance at the patriotic conference which is being held on Wednesday at the Sherman hotel. The all-day meeting will be called at 10 o'clock with luncheon at 1 o'clock.

False Alarm
A chimney fire at the home of Lillian Sauer, 1021 North Seventh street, Saturday morning about 8:20 o'clock, caused a false alarm to be sent into the local fire department.

Twenty-five auxiliary firemen have been undergoing extensive training in new methods of fire-fighting in recent weeks, and have completed twenty-seven of the 37 hours required. The group added five hours last Sunday, when they had hook-up drill, high pressure work, and ladder practice. Next Sunday, additional work will be taken up, under the continued direction of Fire Chief John Maxson, and experienced men in the work. Bomb drill will then be held as well as additional general routine drill.

Many Attend Show
At least 36 residents of Rochelle and vicinity are known to have been among the crowd of 25,000 present at the opening of the annual National Flower and Garden Show, which opened in Chicago Sunday. Thirty-two made the trip on a bus chartered for the occasion by the Rochelle Garden Club, and at least one carload of four made the trip. The show met the expectations of the group and only the size of the crowd prevented complete enjoyment of the many beautiful presentations.

The State Garden Show will be held this year at Lyle, Illinois, on the Morton estate, from May 14 to May 17. Advance tickets are selling by the Garden Club for 50 cents. This state show has been held in past years at Navy Pier in Chicago.

A Soldier's Point of View

This column is turned over today to Lieut. Gen.
Ben Lear, Jr., commander of the second army of the United States of America. The other day in Cleveland, General Lear spoke some truths every American should hear . . .

ABOUT CRITICIZING OUR ALLIES:

"Let us be thankful that the great bastion, the United Kingdom, has stood. Let us be thankful for those magnificent Russian armies that refused to acknowledge defeat and came back fighting in
a campaign that has the admiration of every soldier. Let us be thankful for the tenacity and endurance of the Chinese."Criticism of our allies in their hours of trial
is not only destructive of a sense of proportion and appreciation of their great losses, but it leads to the question: Who wants to suspect and criticize
our allies? Who wants to prepare us by suspicion and hatred so that we will lose the peace after we have paid the awful price that will be exacted to win the war?"Let us be loyal. Let us be worthy of others being loyal to us."

ABOUT LABOR DISPUTES:

"I do not appreciate—nor does any soldier—the
remarks we sometimes read when there is a strike.
'Make them work or fight.' I don't want to discuss strikes. But I do want to say this on behalf of the soldier-man: The individual who is unwilling to work we don't want picked up and sent to us to join combat troops. He isn't good enough. We don't want his spirit. And we don't want his presence."No, if you want to discipline and make useful those that have refused to work faithfully with the team, let labor battalions be formed for them. Let such men be given the job of building the highway
to Alaska, of being put to work in Labrador, in Greenland. Draft them, yes; but our society of men being trained to fight and die for this republic is not a reform school. Just as we accept none but the physically fit, so we want none but the morally worthy."

ABOUT CIVILIANS' ROLES:

"Your effective organization, that involves the complete civilian effort, is what will do morethan any amount of cheering, entertaining and gift giving to give confidence to the soldier that the great American team is functioning. When this soldier sees that every household is organized
against waste, is following a plan of conservation,
is definitely contributing more than money to the war effort, then he will have greater pride and
confidence in the unity of our war effort."

ABOUT WINNING THE WAR:

"Your sons are being made into fighters. Their instruction may be varied and requires professional skill, but their mission is simple—to destroy the enemy, on land, on the seas and in the air.

"FIGHTERS WILL WIN."

"Their families at home, their neighbors around the corner, their teamworkers in the factories and
on the farms, they, too, belong grimly, determinedly, unselfishly, in the ranks of the warriors of the republic. They, too, must fight for every advantage that may be given their men and their allies
on the battle fronts. At home, as greatly as on the seas, in the deserts, among the jungles, and
over mountains and plains—FIGHTERS WILL WIN."

Decoding Codeball

Ben Williamson of the Cleveland Press read
that among the 35 co-ordinators of the Office of Civilian Defense was a Dr. William E. Code, coordinator of codeball. Ben set out to answer the question: what the devil is codeball?Cleveland sporting goods firms and recreation directors didn't know. Sports guides didn't index
it. Finally, the files of the city recreation department yielded the answer.It is a game like handball, but the feet must be used instead of the hands. In the outdoor version one attempts to kick the ball into a series of cone-shaped bowls or holes.When we are going to quit kicking around this life and death matter of civilian defense?

Keep 'em Fighting

For the first time in the history of the Hoboken, N. J., jail three inmates have been tossed out. Three hitch-hiking girls, aged 13 to 15, were thrown in the cooler. They burned their mattresses,
knocked a hole in the wall, turned on the water
cooler, and then punched the matron in the jaw.
Then they were released.Please, congress, pass that bill establishing military service for women. General MacArthur can use them.

Safe and Sane

War may accomplish what continued safety and sanity appeals to have failed to do. Perhaps America can celebrate this Fourth of July without the appalling death toll of previous years.A ban on the sale and manufacture of fire-
crackers and torpedoes will conserve materials used in munitions. Restrictions are placed on other fireworks. Thus the deaths and injuries from fireworks may be substantially reduced, if not eliminated.Tire rationing will cut down highway traffic
on the holiday. Slower speeds, recommended for tire conservation, may prevent accidents.But only common sense will keep celebrating Americans from rocking boats, venturing in water beyond safe depths and other foolhardy tricks.It's up to us to make all the holidays of 1942
safe and sane, to keep more Americans alive and fit to work and fight for the Independence that makes July 4 a holiday.Right Soil Managing
Can Save Machinery
As Well as the SoilUse of good soil management
measures which prevent formation of gullies will not only save
soil but will also help conserve
farm machinery, believes E. D.
Walker, extension soil conserva-
tionist of the University of Illinois
College of Agriculture."Jumping" gullies, either large
or small, puts unnecessary strain
on farm machinery and often results in costly repair bills. Many an old machine which with careful use would last for several years is brought to an untimely
end when operated on a badly
eroded field. The life of new implements is likewise shortened.
The more costly machines such as tractors, combines and corn pickers are damaged the most by working over rough ground.With the amount of new machinery reduced and the supply of repair parts uncertain, farmers
can well afford to do everything possible to conserve the machines
they have on hand, Walker said.There are several measures for preventing erosion and gully-
ing which can be put into operation this spring. Establishment of grass waterways by seeding the
drainage ways to a good grass mixture is one of the best. If a gully has already formed in the waterway, it should be worked in before the seeding is made. A well established grass waterway will handle a large flow of water without danger of gully-ing.Another practice which fits
right in with the grass waterways
is that of farming the land on the contour or on the level. Working fields in this manner has not only
been found effective for prevention of erosion and gully-ing but it has also resulted in some increases in crop yields. Where erosion and gully-ing can not be adequately prevented by contour cultivation alone, terraces are usually
added.With these measures should go
a good rotation, including plenty
of legumes and grasses and the use of limestone, phosphate and
other soil treatments needed to make it effective.Many State Farmers Find Lime is LifeLime is life to thousands of Illinois farmers just as it is to the farmers in Pope-Hardin county who spread 25,341 tons last year."Progressive farmers became interested in the use of limestone
as early as 1903," relates Farm Adviser Glenn C. Smith. "By 1910-14 there were a number of farmers using a carload of lime
each year, most of it being hauled
from two to 10 miles over country roads. In the past six years 76,947
tons has been spread.In recognition of their contribution to the maintenance of the soil fertility of the two counties, 36 Pope-Hardin farmers who have spread more than 250 tons of limestone were presented with certificates of award at a recent "limestone day" at Golconda. The event
was sponsored by limestone quar-
ries and phosphate companies in cooperation with the Pope-Hardin County Farm Bureau and county
AAA committees.In addition S. E. Herl, Abraham Baker and R. F. Austin were honored for having spread more than 1,000 tons of limestone on their farms. Herl, Pearson, Ulys Bascom, J. H. Vaughn, L. N. Wingate, Paul Trovillion, Amos Tanner, Fred Bender, E. R. Gibson
and Phillip Shoettle have limed
all the crop land on their farms.Those receiving certificates for spreading more than 250 tons
were Louis Hamper, Luther Sheridan, Bennie Taylor, Roy La
Mar, Walter Ledford, R. E. Oker-
son, C. N. Wall, Jr., C. A. Watson,

lington, Fred Maddough, Gail Stone, T. O. Phelps, J. E. Futrell,

Robbie Layman.Limestone spreading activities
of Pope-Hardin county farmers
are an example of the extent to which farmers in all parts of the state have adopted the principles of the Illinois system of permanent soil fertility, a "creed" of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and progressive farmers for more than a half century.Lime is pretty clear that Mrs.
Gordon was touched with religious fanaticism. If Louise's stories
could be depended upon—and Parris was sure that they could be—Dr. Gordon, too, had had more than a trace of the same fanaticism.Parris tried desperately to direct his own attention away from certain dawning convictions.
Sadism was common enough in many forms, but sadism coupled with religious fanaticism was particularly dangerous. Such a person with a surgeon's knife in his hands—He remembered Willy Macin-
tosh's father and the screams
coming from that upstairs room
as Dr. Gordon operated—without chloroform. He remembered Ludie Simms, a harmless enough libertine, and the Gordon operation
that paralyzed half her face.How in the world had this man
managed to go through a whole
career in Kings Row without ever
being called into question?
(To Be Continued)NEWS
BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited).Washington, March 17.—Mr.
Roosevelt has written the 48 state
governors seeking a 40-mile national speed limit to save tires.
Motorists will no doubt voluntarily impose one on themselves immediately so no redeemable rubber
will be lost. But the president should also have written a more
caustic letter to one of his own
government departments, which,
it now appears, is a great—if not
the greatest—waster of rubber in the entire country.A tire rationing board in central Ohio was astonished when a trailer-hauler came in a few days
back and testified that the trailer
homes of defense workers all
through the country had been furnished tires by the federal government—and these precious tires
were still on the stationary buffet
houses, standing and rotting
around the factories.The applicant said he hauled trailers from a Michigan manufacturer to Baltimore. These were occupied by workers at an airplane factory. All he had hauled
there were left standing on tires,
he told the tire-board.A member of the board
wrote me the circumstances
and, upon investigation, I discovered the following facts:About 2,791 trailers were quartered by the federal government in approximately 50
camps established through the country up to February 1, and most of these trailers apparently still have tires on them.
A majority of them have been sitting around in use since last summer and fall.The trailer project started last June under auspices of the Farm
Security Administration of the agriculture department. The project
had nothing to do with agriculture, but the department had some experience in handling migrating
farm hands that way. Recently the national housing agency took
the project over in accordance with Roosevelt's general reorganization order of several weeks ago.The project calls for 8,483
more trailers immediately and NHA is adopting a program
whereby the steel undercarriages,
wheels and tires will be returned
to the factory for other vehicles
as soon as they are delivered at camps.FSA, defending itself, says it has bought only 400 new tires in the last 60 days to get this delivery pool started and no new tires are now being bought, although haulers, like the man in central Ohio, are "probably getting priorities" for tires on the trucks or towing vehicles they use.Although FSA says it is jacking
up its trailers now and removing tires as fast as possible, its own
claims show it has not done much.
They mention two or three factors holding them back:Funds for this particular work have only recently become available. It "takes time"
to get contracts from local firms to build sawhorses and
furnish concrete blocks, etc.
The work can be done only in
good weather like building
construction (although there
have been few days this winter when concrete could not be poured in the latitude of Baltimore—if you must have concrete to remove a tire).But they trip themselves between two of these contentions. If they had to buy 400
new tires since rationing
started January 1, as they say, then they certainly have not taken many tires for this purpose off trailers already placed. They should not have needed much more than 400
tires for their shuttle pool the past two months.A speed limit might well be set for NHA to get those tires
off those trailers in good weather and bad.A ghoulish legal racket upon relatives of war victims has been reported to authorities and is being investigated. Some unidentified parties are supposed to be circulating letters to "the next of kin" of those killed in action,
promising for a small fee to represent them legally in their claimsFederal Grant for Rochelle Hospital
Sought by CouncilMayor McHenry Authorized to Take Action
Toward That End(Telegraph Special Service)
Rochelle, March 17.—At Monday evening's meeting of the Rochelle city council Mayor W. B.
McHenry was empowered to make application for a federal grant to help finance a municipal hospital
of 25 beds here.The council's resolution also designed William H. Schulzke of Moline as architect to furnish
such information as the government may request and to prepare plans and specifications for the structure.If the government should approve the request for a grant, Rochelle residents would vote on a proposal to issue bonds to furnish additional funds for the project. The request for government assistance is based on the fact that Rochelle is in a defense
area, and that facilities of hospitals in adjacent cities now are taxed to capacity.

In Defense Areas

Rochelle is close to the Rockford industrial defense area as well as the site of the Green River army ordnance plant, which will be constructed in Amboy,
and Marion townships of Lee county. In addition, this city has a canning industry which is considered vital to the nation's war
effort, and another plant, that
of the Whitcomb Locomotive company, which is engaged in war
production.Council action came as the result of a survey taken by the Rochelle Chamber of Commerce,
in which local residents were
asked to tell whether they preferred construction of a new hospital or purchase of the present
Lincoln hospital building.Sentiment favored a new hospital, and petitions asking the council to apply for U. S. assistance were circulated. The petitions, signed by 668 citizens, were presented by Drs. A. R. Bogue
and C. G. Coghessall. Another
petition signed by 142 persons,
asking that the city vote on a proposal to buy the Lincoln hospital,
was tabled.Mrs. Marie Talcott, owner of Lincoln hospital, had informed the chamber of commerce that she intended to close the hospital as soon as possible.Two Children Die in Burning Farm HomeSouth Bend, Ind., March 17 — (AP)—Two small children were killed at 10:30 a. m. today in an explosion and resulting fire that swept through the farm home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Norton, one and a half miles
east of Walkerton on Teegarden Road.The dead were Jellie Lie, 4, and John Gerald, 2.A kerosene cooking stove apparently caused the blast, which occurred shortly after the children's mother had left the house
to get milk.S. A. Nusbaum, undertaker, said only the children's hands and
faces were burned and he believed
they suffocated.

against the government.

No one needs legal representation in this kind of a "claim"
against the government. The law
is clear, and the war and navy
departments eagerly cooperative.
Any "next of kin" would be foolish to throw money away in this apparently legal graft.What authorities want to know
is how the racketeers get an appreciable number of names of casualties and their next of kin.
Neither war nor navy departments publish casualty lists.
Nearest relative is generally notified by wire or letter, and sometimes this relative notifies the local paper. A clipping service
might possibly collect a number of these local items, and sell them to shysters. It is conceivable also that the personnel handling this
business in both army and navy
was specially chosen.

Resort Wear

(From Bonwit Teller, New York)

The outfit is new on southern resort beaches right now, will go everywhere that women of distinction relax next summer. French blue faille makes the subtly tailored, mannish-cuffed shorts and the long sleeved blouse with big blue buttons at shoulders. Shell jewelry echoes and contrasts with the costume color—two shades of turquoise at wrist and neck, pink at ankle.

Labor Yields Right to Strike During Duration

Washington, March 17—(AP)—The leaders of organized labor indicated today that labor had yielded its right to strike during the war as a more satisfactory answer to the problems of production and national unity than restrictive legislative enactments by congress.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Philip Murray, chairman of the CIO, who called at the White House with members of the labor board, disclosed after an hour's conference with the president that it was agreed wage rates and standards would be fixed, without resort to strikes, or interruption to production, through these three methods:

Collective bargaining, conciliation or mediation, or operations of the National War Labor Board.

State Employee, Wife Found Dead in Chicago

Chicago, March 17—(AP)—The bodies of John O'Connor, 40, a state employee, and his wife, Beatrice, 42, were found today in their kitchenette apartment in a north side building.

O'Connor was a junior accounting clerk in the benefit section of the state division of unemployment compensation since March 31, 1941.

Investigators said the man's boy was hanging by a sash cord against a door and there were marks, as from a rope, on the throat of the woman's body which was on the floor near the bed. They had been dead perhaps 24 hours.

LEASE-LEND FACT

Washington, March 17—(AP)—The United States and Colombia signed a lend-lease agreement today providing for a reported $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 in war material for that South American country strategically important because of its proximity to the Panama Canal.

Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles and Dr. Gabriel Turbay, Colombian ambassador, signed the pact at the state department.

No details were revealed.

Over 900 Reported

narrowly escaped. At O'Fallons, near Water Valley, a school house and teacher's home were demolished a few minutes after school closed.

At Fort Pemberton, near Greenwood, a school bus that had just unloaded its passengers, was blown several hundred yards and overturned. The driver was injured severely.

Two storms struck scattered areas in east-central Illinois. The first ripped through three eastern counties, and the second blasted a trail about 100 miles to the north and west. The first storm hit the center of Alvin, a town of 339, leaving at least eight dead, and the second passed through Lacon, 1,600 population, where six were known dead and about 100 injured in that district. Property damage was heavy in those areas and near St. Joseph, where three were reported dead.

Six Counties Affected

The towns of Hope and Savoy, Ill., each reported one storm death, and another was known dead near Mayview. Damage in six Illinois counties was estimated at more than $500,000.

Tennessee's 20 known dead and more than 100 injured were reported from western communities in the rich cotton land bordering the Mississippi river. Seven unidentified persons were reported killed at Russell's Store near Bolivar. Four were killed at Resgan, and five near Selmer. Enville, Finger, Paris and Coopersville each had one death.

A house-to-house canvass of the wrecked area of west Tennessee was still in progress early today to determine other possible casualties.

Nine persons were reported killed when a tornado struck Browder, west Kentucky coal mining community. Twenty were injured. One person was killed at Leitchfield, home community of Kentucky's famed year-old Porter Lashley quadruplets.

Two were known dead at Summit Bardtown, Ky., and Drakeboro and Greenville, Ky., each reported one death.

Indiana Storms Freakish

Indiana's tornadoes struck freakishly in two areas about 150 miles apart. Two were killed at Goshen, a city of 10,000 in the north-central part of the state, and at least 30 were injured. Violent windstorms injured three persons at Shelbyville in the northern part of the state.

Full force of the tornado ripped through a new residential section of Goshen, causing fires and heavy property damage. At least ten homes were flattened.

after the two tornadoes. Leo E. Carr, state highway police chief, said approximately 100 members of his force went into the affected zones and that officers administered minor first aid treatment in a number of instances.

The state police set up a portable radio transmitter at Alvin to insure adequate communication with Danville. Last night, Carr said, state policemen rushed serum for the health department from Peoria to Lacon.

RED CROSS ACTIVE

Washington, March 17—(AP)—The American Red Cross dispatched 50 disaster workers into southern and mid-western states today to direct aid for victims of widespread tornadoes and called 100 Red Cross nurses to duty in the affected areas.

Relief headquarters were established in Memphis, Tenn., with Nat C. Wilson of the Washington staff in charge. Assisting him were Glen E. Whisler, Frank Curtiss and Mrs. Edith McAlister. In charge of nursing activities were Miss Marguerite Wales and Miss Virginia Elliman.

The Memphis Red Cross chapter telegraphed national headquarters that a caravan carrying 15 doctors and 20 nurses had left for the Grenada, Miss., area.

There was little to salvage from the Blue mountain crash as the plane apparently hit a 3500-foot peak at full speed.

Those killed in the Boise crash were Second Lieut. Charles S. Hosford III, Butler, Pa., the pilot; Second Lieut. Duane T. Crothwaite, Pleasant Ridge, Mich., co-pilot; Harold L. Gilliam, Everett, Wash., and Pvt. Arthur L. Schipper, address unavailable.

Payments of Income Tax Double Last Year's

Washington, March 17—(AP)—The treasury announced today that actual cash deposits of March income tax collections in the first 16 days of the month totaled $1,753,000,000.

The figure represented only money or checks deposited in Federal Reserve banks up to the time of bank closing yesterday and did not include many million of dollars received late last night or payments which were placed in the mail yesterday.

The figure, however, was more than twice as much as the $790,000,000 deposited in the corresponding period last year.

Hero of Bataan Is

Netherlands Indies to the command of the Dutch was announced, but no reference was made to a supreme United Nations command in the Southwest Pacific area.

It now develops that MacArthur already had been ordered to Australia, but today's announcement made no reference to India or Burma, and there was no immediate indication whether MacArthur's command extended to them.

In Philippine Seven Years

MacArthur has commanded the Philippine army since 1935, when he completed a tour of duty as chief of staff of the war department.

Assigned to Manila as military adviser to the Philippine commonwealth government, he undertook the organization and training of the Philippine army, which with United States forces in the Philippines has defended those islands against the invading Japanese in a campaign that has won the admiration of the world.

Despite the fact that mobilization of the Philippine army was never completed, MacArthur's principal forces were able to delay the invading Japanese drives to permit withdrawal from Manila, which was declared an open city and was not defended, toward Bataan peninsula, on the western side of Manila Bay.

In the early fighting, air forces under MacArthur's command inflicted heavy losses on Japanese invasion fleets, including the sinking of the battleship Haruna off northern Luzon.

The Japanese, however, obtained air superiority almost immediately, and the heavy bombers of MacArthur's forces were withdrawn to the Dutch Indies after enemy bombing had destroyed the usefulness of their bases. MacArthur still retained, however, an unspecified number of pursuit planes, which he fitted out temporarily as bombers for destructive raids against Japanese installations in the Philippine islands.

Jap Control Extended

To date the Japanese have extended their control in the Philippines only over the major portion of Luzon, the island of Masbate, and a part of the southern island of Mindanao. MacArthur, his communications apparently still in good order, has been able to keep in touch with the operation of numerous guerrilla bands on the Philippine islands, including such irregular forces in the portions of Luzon which the Japanese supposedly had occupied completely.

Backed by the huge guns of Corregidor and the other island forts at the entrance of Manila bay, MacArthur succeeded in stabilizing a line across Bataan peninsula, and not only has stopped every Japanese attempt to advance against him for weeks, but has even regained small sections of the territory previously occupied by the Japanese.

The successful resistance by his greatly outnumbered forces was cited by the war department several days ago as the cause of persistent reports of the hara-kiri, or ceremonial suicide, of Lieutenant General Masaharu Homma, commanding Japanese forces in the Philippines.

Homma was succeeded by Lieutenant General Tomoyuki Yamashita, who commanded the successful Japanese campaign in Malaya which resulted in the capture of Singapore.

Brilliance Well Known

Military circles here have attributed MacArthur's successes in the Philippines to his already well known brilliance as a general, which they say included an ability to choose for his staff some of the army's best officers.

MacArthur, a native of Little Rock, Ark., had a famous career in the army before his assignment to the Philippines. A brigade commander and later the Rainbow Division commander during the first World War—he was only 38 years old when it ended—MacArthur returned to the United States to become superintendent of West Point in 1919, and in the early 1920's served a tour of duty in the Philippines which served him in good stead when he returned many years later as adviser to the Philippine government.

After the war with Japan started last December, MacArthur was reappointed a full general and commander of United States Army forces in the western Pacific area.

Until his assignment to Australia, however, his command actually covered only the Philippine islands.

Evidence of his brilliant career are the 23 decorations which his own and other governments have conferred on him.

Hailed in London

London, March 17—(AP)—British military circles today hailed Gen. Douglas MacArthur's appointment to supreme command in Australia as a demonstration of "the coordination existing between the empire and the United States."

MacArthur's prestige in Britain is probably higher than that of any other American soldier, with the possible exception of Gen.

George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

Australians and Americans here were jubilant at the announcement. "We always admired him tremendously; he's the best man for the job," was a typical Australian comment.

Beg Your Pardon—

A typographical error in the story published March 12 of an accounting suit filed in Lee county Circuit court by Mrs. Mary Long of Amboy, stated that her husband, Samuel A. Long, had passed away March 10, 1936. This was erroneous, as Mr. Long's death occurred March 10, 1926.

GOLD STAR... at this time we'd like to give LeMar Wells a "Gold Star" for his perfect attendance at the Dixon Recreation bowling alleys every Monday night... he just never misses on a Monday... and we'd like to know the reason for such consistency... and if Jack Gannon is a good boy and continues to be present with LeMar every Monday, then he too will get a "Gold Star"... you know Fans, Monday is set aside for the Ladies' Bowling League...

HUMBLED CUTTINGS... bristle whittlings adorned the bath floor of the Smith residence last evening following Ward Smith's reading of the vicious attack the Russell Rushin had made on the stubble fuzz which embroidered the vicinity under Ward's proboscis... Ward was so irked that he sneaked out Dad's whisker cutter and proceeded to mow 'em down... poor mustachio!...

HIGH SCORES... some of the gals in the Ladies Bowling League last night at the Dixon Recreation were serious about the whole situation and as a result turned in some excellent scores... Mrs. Frank Daschbach rolled the high individual game and the high series game for the evening... her single count was 224 and the high series was 548... H. Klein turned in a neat singleton at 217... Mrs. Harwood got into the upper bracket as she rolled out a 202 game... Elsie Shaulis wasn't exactly poking around either as she collected a high individual series of 511...

MIXED DOUBLES... diminutive Russ Brown managed to puff up enough steam last night to blow down enough pins to aid his partner and himself to walk off with the first place prize money in the weekly mixed doubles session at the Lincoln Lanes... Doc McGraham Sr. and Thelma Wombwell won second money and C. Weidman and Betty Nehring topped off third place dough... the high honors for men went to Doc McGraham, Jr., with a 191 and Don Mercer rolled close behind with a 190... Ginny Miles and Marge Evers took individual honors for the ladies... out of town bowlers were Dr. Poppenhouse and Mrs. Graves, both of Ashton...

OPPORTUNITY THWARTED?

By Amos Sharp

Dixon can well be proud of its high school basketball team. With a season behind them of only 4 losses, and a Sectional triumph achieved against odds, the Dixon young athletes deserve a lot of praise.

For the first time in the history of the school, Dixon sends a team to Champaign to compete for state honors. Every advantage that can be accorded the team should be given. No Dixonite could feel otherwise.

Dixon needs a powerful contender in Decatur Thursday afternoon. The central Illinois team, with two state championships won in previous years, always presents formidable opposition.

We are advised the Dixon team is to leave here Thursday morning for Champaign, arriving we would presume, about two hours before time to start playing the most important basketball game a Dixon team ever participated in.

We would not want to unjustly criticize the local coach nor any high school official, but it does not require an expert to see the fallacy of such procedure. If the Dixon team is to be given the chance it deserves, its members should not be compelled to get out of a bus after a four-hour drive and immediately start playing in what might well be the most important athletic contest of their lives.

If the team does not merit a "break," the fans, I believe, do.

ROOM FOR MORE... Mildred Ryan called this department this morning and volunteered an open place in her car for one or two more fans that would like to go to Champaign Thursday to see the Dukes battle it out with Decatur... whoever lacks a ride to the tourney and would like to go here's a swell chance for them... you can get in touch with Mildred by calling Y1354...

ANCHORS AWEIGH... Brad Moll received his commission as ensign in the United States Navy yesterday and is now awaiting notice to report for training previous to his actual service... Joe Gillen has made application and is awaiting his commission as lieutenant, junior grade, in the United States Navy...

SPORT EVENT... the Winnebago County Sportsmen Club will hold its annual spring dinner meeting at the Nelson Hotel, Rockford, on Monday evening, March 23, 7:30 p. m. a delicious Red Snapper dinner will be served at a buck a plate... Tom Main, that fine field manager for Ducks Unlimited, will be present and will give a short talk on the work being done by this splendid organization... he will also bring the new colored duck movies... all proceeds will be turned over to Ducks Unlimited... this is a mixed meeting, so wives and friends are invited... tickets will be on advance sale only and can be obtained at Kitteringham & Parker Sports Store, Pla-More Sport Shop and the Burr Sporting Goods Store... many Dixonites are interested in this club and will probably attend...

GUESTS... John Torrens, Ward Miller, Sterling Schrock, Grover Gehant, Gilbert Finch, E. S. Rosecrans and L. E. Bates went to Ashton last night... they attended the annual athletic banquet which is given for the high school and grade school basketball teams...

JEALOUS... some of the younger gay blades about the drag have been complaining of jealous spasms ever since some of those delicious lookers raced across the Ottawa gym floor last Friday night to plant some luscious smackers on the Champion Dukes... Johnny Loftus got the biggest share...

THE TURBULENT TURK... and so goes the feudin' back and forth but still no action... the Turk has become despondent of late due to the Rushin' spoiling some of his business... here's the latest from the Turk...

Dear Sports Editor: I have overlooked many things the Russell Rushin has said but when he interferes with my business it provokes me no end. Immediately after advertising my booklet on "How to Raise a Terrifying Mustache," he comes out and ridicules a new mustache on one of our townsmen to the extent that this person shaves it off. Fun is fun but I will thank him if he does not interfere in my business from now on.

As ever,

YUAS KEDFOREM

P. S. I have added Bob (Advertising) Johnson to my group of instructors.

Coach Sharpe's Dukes Go to State With Enviably Record

Dixon Dukes' Record Proves Their Sense Of Cooperation and Love of Game Which Earned Them a Place in "Sweet Sixteen"

When the Dixon Dukes face Decatur in the first round of the State Tourney at Champaign Thursday they will be carrying with them an enviable team record and also an enviable record of individuals.

The outstanding characteristic of this year's Duke quintet is their sense of unity and co-operation. At no time have we noticed any particular individual attempting to assert himself as the star of the outfit. Coach Sharpe's present Dukes have been just a bunch of nice boys who love to play basketball and each has shown in many different games his respect and admiration for his teammates. It's true that the Dukes have a high scorer and a low scorer, it's also true that they have an outstanding floor man and one or so slow men, it's also true that they have boys from varied circumstances, but the glaring truth of the whole analysis is the fact that these lads fully realize that it takes various types of ability and various types of men to make a ball team; they've allowed for this and added with their love of the game they've turned out a team which functions to near perfection.

Through the Sectional Tourney the Dukes were not picked to win any one game and it can be readily understood. The Dukes, individually, didn't look strong enough to become one of the "Sweet Sixteen" but when these boys went into action with their full comprehension of one another and their zest to win, the tide of forecast went into backwash and they rolled to three Sectional wins much to the amazement of the forecasters who usually hit the nail on the head before the hammer was applied. In the final game of the Sectional with LaSalle-Peru, the Dukes were slated for their demise, but surprisingly so, the lads moved the ball so fast and with such understanding of one another's position that all through the second half the Cavaliers looked almost clumsy. The Cavaliers were playing in an attempt to stop Duke scoring threats and failed to realize that it was the Dukes speed and passing timing that were opening up shot after shot. Five men working as a single unit beat LaSalle-Peru and won the Sectional championship for the Dukes.

Season Record
The Dukes have won 17 games and lost only 4 this season. She has scored 896 points to her opponents' 628. They've averaged 42.1 points per game to their opponents' average of 29.8 points. The Dukes had tough losses, in four games, one to Rock Falls, one to Sterling, Princeton, and the fourth to the team which really outplayed and outshined the Dukes all the way through, East Rockford. On the other hand the Dukes have beaten one of the teams which is entered in the "Sweet Sixteen" and who beat East Rockford in the finals of the Sectional, Freeport, by the score of 30 to 28.

The Dukes scoring is well broken up between its members and indicates their being a cooperative bunch of boys. Frank Leeper, however, does outstride the Duke scorers for his job has been one of carrying the scoring burden. Frankie has dumped in 120 goals and 53 free throws this season for a total of 293 points. Paul Reynolds has collected 68 goals and 38 free throws for a total of 174 points. Cy Shank has made 63 goals and 27 for 157 points. Johnny Loftus has hit 42 goals and 17 free throws for 101 points. Jo VanMeter with 8 goals and 16 free throws for 32 points. Walter Knack with 34 goals and 15 free throws for 83 points. Bryce Hubbard with 8 goals and 3 free throws for a total of 19 points. Bob Alexander and Billy Goff have each contributed 2 points. Reynolds, Shank, and Van Meter are seniors and will be finishing their high school careers in the State Tourney. Boys who will return next year are Leeper, Loftus, Knack and Hubbard who are all Juniors; Goff and Marshall are Sophomores and Alexander is a Freshman.

Centralia's Dwight Eddleman Greatest In Illinois History

Centralia, Ill., March 17—(AP)—Dwight "Dyke" Eddleman will be trying this week for just about the only basketball honor that thus far has eluded him—the honor of playing on a State championship team.

Twice before Eddleman has played on Centralia teams that entered the state finals at Champaign, only to lose out. But he'll be back for a third try.

Centralia will meet West Frankfort in its first game Thursday and the "Eddlemans," who have watched the unassuming star blaze brilliantly through four years of high school competition to capture not only state-wide but national acclaim, will be there to watch the latest chapter in his amazing career.

Out of Town Guests
The out of town guests at the wedding of Miss Avis Trump and Herbert Hays on Saturday evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Max Hays, Hanover, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Trump, daughter Margaret and son Paul, J. Madison, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cooper, daughter Mary Lee and son Donald, Mt. Vernon, Ia. and Miss Ruth Sheffield of Storm Lake, Ia.

Death of Sister

John Rohrer of West Oregon street received word Sunday afternoon that his sister, Mrs. Melissa Shaw had passed away at the home of her daughter in Mt. Morris.

Hays and Trump

Miss Avis Trump, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Trump of Polo and Herbert Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Hays of Milledgeville were married

Saturday evening in a candlelight ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, east of Polo. The Rev. Theodore Loeppert, pastor of the Polo Methodist church, read the single ring ceremony against a background of pine boughs flanked by two candelabra and two baskets of blue and yellow flowers.

The bride wore a dress of white satin with a fingertip veil and carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Miss Ruth Sheffield of Storm Lake, Ia. attended the bride. She was wearing blue chiffon and carried a hand bouquet of blue and yellow flowers. Mary Lee Cooper, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dress of yellow dotted Swiss with blue trim. Beecher Bomberger acted as best man for the groom.

Presiding the ceremony, Paul Trump of Madison, Wis., brother of the bride, sang "O Promise Me" and "Because", accompanied by Mrs. Russell Cooper of Mount Vernon, Ia., a sister of the bride. Mrs. Cooper played softly during the ceremony. A reception was held at the home for the 60 guests who attended the ceremony. The table appointments were blue and yellow.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hays left after the reception for a week's wedding trip, Mrs. Hays was wearing a blue and brown ensemble with brown accessories. The bride was graduated from Polo Community high school in 1940 and attended Cornell college at Mount Vernon, Ia. Mr. Hays was graduated from the Polo Community high school with the class of 1938 and is engaged in farming with his father near Milledgeville. They will reside with the bride's parents for the present.

Domestic airlines of the U. S. flew 106 million revenue passenger miles in November 1941, an increase of 30.28 percent over the corresponding month in 1940.

Of Alaska's 378 million acres, only about 2 million acres have ever been surveyed.

FIFTY BITTY DITTIES

The gentlemen who write the nation's laws have not been doing any too well lately, but neither have those who write the nation's songs.

Among the pantywaist numbers on the current song lists are "Remember Pearl Harbor," "We're Gonna Have to Slap the Dirty Jap," "Good-bye, Mama" (rhyming with "I'm Off to Yokohama"), "Let's Put the Ax to the Axis," "Uncle Sammy, Here I Am," "Good-bye, Dear, I'll Be Back in a Year," etc. Add a crooner and get out the aspirin.

We still feel that the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" is the song for a fighting faith.—Exchange.

He told a press conference that Chinese military intelligence reports also had told of a meeting of district chiefs of staff of armed forces in Manchukuo.
